

KILIMANJARO MOUNTAIN ROUTES

The Rongai Route

Route summary
Length:	8 days
Type:	Camping
Difficulty:	Moderate to demanding

Day 1: Nalemuru gate to Simba camp

Trekking time	4 hours
Climatic zone	Rainforest
Altitude gained	600 metres / 1,970 feet

Vehicles take climbers to the gate at 2,000 metres at the entrance to the forest on the north eastern side of the mountain. This is a journey of a little over an hour from Marangu. From here it is a 3 to 4 hour walk, gradually ascending through the forest, to the camp which is just clear of the forest at 2,600 metres.

Day 2: Simba camp to Second Cave

Trekking time	4-5 hours
Climatic zone	Alpine moorland
Altitude gained	850 metres / 2,788 feet

The path ascends on a good path through Alpine moorland, similar to what is found on the Marangu route, to Second Cave at 3450 metres. Hikers walk along slopes with both Mawenzi and Kibo in view if clear. Total time is about 4-5 hours. This is a steep day, although there is plenty of time so climbers can go slowly.

Day 3: Second Cave to Kikelewa Camp

Trekking time	3-4 hours
Climatic zone	Alpine moorland
Altitude gained	240 metres / 787 feet

The path ascends on a good path through Alpine moorland towards the jagged peak of Mawenzi. The path is clear and through open moorland. Total time is about 3-4 hours. Kikelewa camp is reached at 3690 metres.

Day 4: Kikelewa camp to Mawenzi Tarn

Trekking time	4 hours
Climatic zone	High altitude desert
Altitude gained	700 metres / 2,300 feet

The path climbs up a steep ridge directly towards Mawenzi. At the top of the ridge, the path turns left and traverses across rocky landscape and then descends into the Tarn Valley where camp is made at 4320 metres. The distance covered is only about 5 kilometres but this usually takes about 3 to 4 hours because of the steepness and altitude. After lunch at Mawenzi Tarn, climbers can trek up into the north corrie of Mawenzi to admire the mountain and to get views eastwards down the Small Barranco (the second largest valley on Kilimanjaro) or westwards across the Saddle towards Kibo.

Day 5 - Rest day at Mawenzi Tarn camp

This day is a rest and acclimatisation day and climbers have a chance to walk around the tarn area in the shadow of Mawenzi. If climbers choose to, they can walk up the northern face slopes of Mawenzi to gain altitude before descending to spend their second night at the tarn.

Day 6: Mawenzi Tarn to Kibo Hut

Trekking time	5 hours
Climatic zone	High altitude desert
Altitude gained	400 metres / 1,315 feet

Climbers retrace their path of the previous day for a short distance, and then descend to the Saddle between Mawenzi and Kibo. There follows a 6 kilometre walk across the gradually ascending high altitude desert to Kibo Hut. Camp is made close to the hut at 4700 metres. Total time is about 5 to 6 hours.

Day 7: Kibo Hut to the summit then down to Horombo Hut

Trekking time	15 hours
Climatic zone	Artic zone
Altitude gained	1,000 metres / 3,280 feet

Climbers are woken at about 11pm. After dressing in all their warm clothing, they have a hot drink and then set off at midnight. The first part of the ascent to the Hans Meyer cave is quite indirect, going around large rock outcrops and it is not as steep as the latter part. The surface is loose and can be hard going. After the cave the scree slope becomes extremely steep and you have to climb in a zig-zag fashion. It takes an average of 6 hours to reach Gillman's Point on the crater rim. On a fine morning, the views of the sun rising from behind Mawenzi are spectacular. Gillman's Point is at 5,700 metres. From here, the path goes around the crater rim for a further one and a half to two hours to the summit at Uhuru Peak, 5896 metres. The descent back to Kibo Hut can take a further 3 or 4 hours. After a rest and a meal, the descent continues to Horombo Hut via the lower route, a further trek of around 3 hours.

Day 8: Horombo Hut to Marangu Gate

Trekking time	6 hours
Climatic zone	Rainforest

The descent from Horombo to Mandara Hut takes around 3 hours, and the final part of the descent through the forest to Marangu Gate takes another 2 hours. At the Gate vehicles will be waiting to take you and your crew back to the hotel.
